

Richard Aviles
EECS 582
03/09/18

Individual Status Report 07

This week I worked on the Google API with Alex. We got the Google maps API to add markers onto locations searched for and have the starting maps page centered on Lawrence for now. This week I am working on getting the current location of the user stored and working and, if time permits, be able to store locations that are being searched.