

Richard Aviles
11/10/2017

Individual Status Report 8

This week I met up with Chinmay for our group meeting on Thursday and discussed our progress and future plans. Other than that I have just been playing around with the Android studio platform. We decided that we would just learn and tinker with this and the Google API for the most of this semester and put the majority of the programming on for the break and next semester.